Plumb Auditorium

(2nd floor)

The Auditorium was originally built as the Council Chamber of the former County Hall, acquired by the College in 1983. The room was named in honour of Sir John Plumb, FBA (1911-2001), eminent scholar, Professor of Modern English History, Fellow of Christ's (1946-1978), and Master (1978-1982). During the Second World War he worked as an analyst on the ULTRA signals intelligence operation at Bletchley Park. Plumb was a prolific writer, and a major authority on the Stuart and Georgian periods of English history.

→ Location

The Plumb Auditorium is located on the top floor of the Todd Building (Z staircase). Stair access only
